Home: A Place to Express Yourself.

We believe there is something to be said for style- for beautiful things. Helping people identify their style is an integral part of our build process at Bannister. Home must be a place you identify who you are. It is music to our ears, when we hear “This is everything I wanted and more.” Here are the THREE Bannister Ways to Identify YOU.

Banter: Your home must SAYSOMETHING about you. Banter, flirt, joke, jester. Let your rooms be an overflow of your heart- colorful pops, neutrals, unique niches, flare with honed granite paired with a farmhouse sink. Identify you and work from there.

Humor, yes. Sarcasm no. Let creativity roar throughout your home. Place Walker Zanger backsplash underneath your Currey & Co. beaded pendants. Or pair your Rose Quartz front door with purple patterned planters. The key is to alternate bold statements with your play it “safer-s”.

Raise the Stakes. When designing your home, choose conversation pieces. Jaw drop with a reclaimed wood wall in your breakfast nook, amaze with a coffered wall in your living space, or reimagine your dog’s humble abode with a unique built-in dog house right by your back door. Think outside the box.
